Interested in Environmental Planning?

The San Diego River Watershed Workgroup wants to invite local area students and/or academic organizations with an interest in wildlife corridors, history, recreation, water management & conservation, and/or planning to become involved in the development of a watershed management plan for San Diego River. You can become involved through educational outreach, attending workgroup meetings or by just giving a helping hand wherever you can. Any person(s) or organization interested in becoming involved or with questions about the watershed should contact Liz Giffen or Tueré Farley at the County of San Diego Watershed Planning Program or Rob Hutsel at the San Diego River Park Foundation.
